

Confederate Women

From Brand: Pelican Publishing
DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

 Download

 Read Online

#171539 in Books Pelican Publishing 2004-05-31 2004-05-31 Original language: English PDF # 1 8.92 x .53 x 6.221, .60 #File Name: 1589801865176 pages | File size: 56.Mb

From Brand: Pelican Publishing : Confederate Women before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Confederate Women:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Jackie S. good 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Southern Pride By Southern by Heritage I found this to be a well written collection of short stories of courage, strength, honor, pride and loyal women. The stories told of women who overcame the much to contribute what they could to the cause they believed to be just. The roles of the women left behind has been left for the most part unwritten, except in fiction. I found this book to be a refreshing look into the hardships, faced and how they contributed in whatever way they could. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Very good read

By 43lynda
Some of the choices women made in the south to be help to their soldiers. The women were brave and had hard choices to make with their family and loved to do part in the war.

Essays focus on different women and their roles in the Civil War, including Charlotte S. Branch, whose three sons went off to fight; Loreta Janeta Velazquez, who was a soldier herself; and Ella K. Newsom Trader, who served as a nurse.

From the Back Cover
This anthology of ten historical and biographical essays focuses on women's roles during the Civil War. Using archival research and, often, excerpts from real women's own letters and diaries, these essays reveal true stories of heroism. Each chapter focuses on a different woman and the part she played in the conflict, from Charlotte S. Branch, whose three sons went off to fight; to Loreta Janeta Velazquez, who was a soldier herself; to Ella K. Newsom Trader, who served as a nurse.
Mauriel Phillips Joslyn's articles have appeared in Gettysburg Magazine, Georgia Journal, Military Heritage, and America's Civil War. She is a member of the Society of Civil War Historians, the Association for the Preservation of Civil War Sites, the Blue and Gray Education Association, and the Georgia Historical Society.
About the Author
Mauriel Phillips Joslyn was born in Manchester, Georgia, and earned undergraduate and graduate degrees in history. While living in Virginia, Joslyn and her family participated in numerous Civil War reenactments. Joslyn lectures and gives presentations on military history dressed in full Confederate costume. She has written several articles about the Civil War and has been published in Gettysburg Magazine, Military Heritage, Georgia Journal, and Irish Sword. Joslyn currently lives in Sparta, Georgia.